LADY, CROUSE RE-ELECTED TO COUNTY BOARD

Luther M. Lady of the Upper Adams joint school system and Lloyd E. Crouse, Littlestown, were re-elected for six-year terms on the county board of school directors at the business session of the 61st convention of the Adams County School Directors' association in Littlestown high school Friday afternoon.

Lady and Crouse, informed of their election, said they will accept, keeping the present make-up of the county board intact for another year. They were chosen from a list of six directors submitted by a nominating committee headed by Roy Heckenluber of the Upper Adams Jointure.

John Reindollar, Fairfield, was elected as an auditor for the county association. Delegates to the state school directors' convention will be Russell Durboraw, Cumberland township, and George Schriver, of the Upper Adams Jointure. Alternates are John G. Myers, Lower Adams Jointure, and Irvin Harbold, North Adams Jointure. Eight had been nominated with the two highest designated as delegates and the next two as alternates.

Predicts Next Red Outbreak

A proposal to make a change in present arrangements for a special education supervisor was shelved, possibly until the directors meet next summer, when President Luther M. Lady told the convention that "further plans" need to be made. The proposal originally scheduled for action Friday was that Gettysburg, Adams county and Hanover share the services of a special education supervisor. Adams and Perry county now divide the services of Miss Elizabeth Rutledge. That arrangement will continue at least until the end of the current school year, Mr. Lady said.

This afternoon meeting followed a turkey banquet in the high school cafeteria at which Mr. Lady was toastmaster. Guests introduced included county commissioners, Amos D. Sheely, president of the retired teachers' association, county school officials and county board members.

In his afternoon address Dr. Douglas Silverton, university professor from Endicott, N. Y., and former fighter pilot with the RAF during World War II, predicted the next Communist armed uprising will be in Indochina in a matter of weeks and will be followed by another in Japan.

"It Can Happen Here"

"Korea is a mess. We're trying to do business there with murderers. We're not fighting the North Koreans, we're fighting Stalin and communism."

"Communism is a religion that is anti-God and anti-Christian," he declared in his address on "The Curse of Communism."

"It is the business of every American citizen to fight—and if necessary to die—to keep this insidious force from eating away the foundation of our freedoms. The Czechs and the Bulgarians said it couldn't happen there—and it can happen here too unless we're on our guard."

Afternoon entertainment included Harry Lauder songs and impersonations by Charles L. Yost, Biglerville, accompanied by Mrs. Yost at the piano. There were two vocal duets, "The Rosary" and "Desert Song," by Dolores Reindollar and Ferree LeFevre.

MISS SMALL IS WED HERE TODAY

Miss Barbara Ann Small, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lawrence Small, 29 Breckenridge street, became the bride of John Elmer Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Snyder, 202 Buford avenue, at a double ring ceremony performed at St. Francis Xavier Catholic rectory at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Fr. Stanislaus T. Laurinits officiated.

For the service the bride wore a navy blue outfit with a pink rosebud corsage. Her attendant, a cousin, Mrs. James Munshower, also wore navy blue, with a red rosebud corsage. Lloyd Rothaupt, Jr., Gettysburg R. 1, was best man.

The bride is employed at the Standard Garment company plant here. The bridegroom is employed as a mechanic with his father at Snyder's Body Shop, Biglerville road, and is a graduate of Gettysburg high school.

The couple left on a wedding trip immediately after the ceremony. Upon their return they will reside along the Fairfield road.

THANK YOU

I want to take this opportunity, on behalf of all the members of the three churches of the charge, to express our deepest appreciation to the entire staff of The Gettysburg Times for the splendid cooperation given to us at all times. There has never been a time when we have ever been displeased with your coverage of our churches' news. The Ortanna church was especially pleased with the fine write-up given their 100th anniversary and also with the special church bulletin you prepared and printed for us.

I might add that there are few towns or cities the size of Gettysburg that can boast of such a fine newspaper. It compares favorably with newspapers in cities three times the size of Gettysburg. Having been in several parts of the United States I feel I can safely say this. Congratulations and here's wishing you steady growth and continued success.

Very sincerely yours,

Rev. Richard H. L. Vanaman

SCHOOL BOARDS TAKE STAND ON VARIOUS ISSUES

The county school directors at their annual convention Friday in Littlestown adopted resolutions repeating their stand in favor of collecting taxes on a county basis and urging passage by the present Legislature of House Bill 163 which gives financial aid to school districts which are constructing school buildings through a municipal authority.

In another resolution the directors recommended that the portion of the additional increment recently voted at Harrisburg for teachers be paid, if possible, in 1951. The bill made the increments retroactive to last July 1.

The convention urged all school districts in the county "to continue to give moral and financial support to the splendid Adams County Library which renders a valuable service to our public schools every month."

ACCIDENTS AND DAMAGES DROP DURING MONTH

The number of accidents investigated by state police of the Gettysburg substation declined sharply in November from the previous month, and were only a third of the number investigated during November of a year ago, the monthly report of Sgt. Joseph E. Temple shows. Property damage dropped from $71,985 in October to $11,730 last month. The figure was $11,265 for November, 1950.

According to the report, only seven accidents were investigated last month, compared with 30 in October and 21 in November of a year ago. One person was killed in November, compared with three in October. There were no fatalities due to motor accidents in November, 1950. Twenty-five persons were injured last month; 23 in October, and 17 in November of a year ago.

State policemen made 139 traffic arrests during November. They conducted 26 criminal investigations, resulting in 23 arrests, with 17 convictions. One case was discharged. Others are pending.

Police made 381 patrols and traveled 17,720 miles during the month on these patrols. They spent 1,238 hours on traffic work, 1,279 on station assignment, 328 hours on criminal investigations and 96 hours on special assignment.

FUNERAL TODAY FOR H. E. BROWN

Funeral services for Harry E. Brown, 77, Fairfield, one of Adams county's most prominent farmers, were held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Allison funeral home in Fairfield with the Rev. Dr. Norman Wolf, pastor of Zion Lutheran church at Fairfield, officiating. Mr. Brown was a member, officiating.

Mr. Brown, who for many years had been president of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association, died Wednesday night at the Warner hospital after an illness of several months.

He was Adams county's first Master Farmer. He was a former school director in Fairfield for 18 years and was prominent in fraternal and community organizations there. He was also a former director of the Adams County Free library.

Pallbearers today were Dr. Ira Henderson, M. T. Hartman, D. J. Wolff, Leroy Sheads, John Brown and Howard Welkert.

CALVIN A. CLUCK IS PRESIDENT OF LIBRARY BOARD

Calvin A. Cluck, McKnightstown, was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Adams County Free library at the annual re-organization meeting Friday evening at the main library on East High street.

David E. Winebrenner, III, New Oxford, was elected vice president to succeed L. S. Long, Gettysburg R. D., and Mr. Long was named as the new treasurer, succeeding Mrs. E. B. Romig, Biglerville. The duties of board secretary are included in those of the librarian, Mrs. Mary S. Wilson.

President Cluck appointed a budget committee including Treasurer Long, Mrs. Romig, William M. Lott and Miss Ann Faber.

Circulation Up

Another committee was appointed by the president to make a study and recommendations on a proposal that a unit of Friends of the Library be formed here. The plan was suggested in connection with the board's consideration of plans for an annual membership campaign in the county. On that committee are Mrs. Romig, Mrs. Ira Henderson and Mrs. Kenneth Smoke.

The report of the librarian, Mrs. Wilson, showed that circulation figures for November were more than 1,000 above the same month last year. Last month 11,554 book loans were made as compared with 10,391 a year ago. Last month's figures bring to 85,021 the total circulation so far in 1951. Her report also shows 160 books added to the library's collection last month by donation and purchase, more than half of them for juveniles.

Mrs. Wilson told the board that Beta Sigma Phi sorority is making plans for a Valentine dance February 9 as a library benefit. She said that story hours for children are proceeding weekly at the library and that a second floor room has been found most satisfactory for that purpose.

Littlestown Boys On FHA Program

Littlestown's Boys Future Homemakers of America club, the only boys' FHA in the nation, is among the groups scheduled to spark activities at the annual FHA program to be held during the state farm show at Harrisburg.

Rowena Whalen, Burgettstown, president of the state FHA, said today that Perce LeFevre, president of the Littlestown Boys' FHA, will sing three songs, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Marianne" and "Alouette" during the program. LeFevre will also lead group singing for the more than 600 girls expected to attend the session.

WARM WEATHER SETS NEW MARKS

The warmest December 7 which has occurred here since continuous weather records were begun in 1903 went into the weather annals here Friday when a maximum reading of 70 degrees was taken.

The nearest approaches to that mark ever before reached on that date were 61-degree readings in 1912, 1919 and 1923.

The current heat wave however has failed so far to set any new marks for the month of December. The December high was a 72-degree reading taken December 10, 1946, while there were 71-degree marks set on December 8, 1918, and December 21, 1923.

Last year on the same date the high reading was 55 degrees and the low was 33.

Slightly Cooler

The weather, which apparently doesn't realize the first official day of winter is less than two weeks off, is expected to be slightly more seasonable over the week-end, the Associated Press said.

But after setting record highs in at least four eastern Pennsylvania cities Friday, that doesn't mean it will be cold. The forecasts across the state predict cooler today with some rain over Saturday night. Sunday is expected to be definitely colder with a prediction of snow for the western regions of Pennsylvania.

Temperature readings in the upper 60s and lower 70s yesterday cracked records in Philadelphia, Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Harrisburg. The top reading of 72 in Philadelphia not only beat the previous December 7 high by two degrees but also gave the city its hottest December day in the 30-year history of the Philadelphia weather bureau.

FILE COURT PETITION

A petition asking that John Diehl be named as auditor in Hamilton township, was submitted by a number of petitioners to the Adams county court this morning.

Find Wreckage Of Lost Cargo Plane In Mountains; 10 Lost

Cuges-les-Pins, France, Dec. 8 (AP)—Air searchers found the wreckage of a U. S. Air Force C-47 cargo plane on a mountain peak today but saw no sign that any of the 10 men aboard survived.

Search planes flying over the wreckage identified it by lifebelts they saw scattered around the debris.

The plane had been missing since Thursday night when it disappeared after checking in by radio 40 miles from Marnegane airfield at Marseille where it was preparing to land.

It had flown from a U. S. air field at Tripoli, Libya.

REC BOARD TO CONSIDER NEW BUILDING HERE

Given use of the second floor of the Moose home on York street for a Teen-age club, the directors of the Gettysburg Recreation association meeting Friday night in the law offices of Swope, Brown and Swope, made plans to start teen-age activities "as soon as possible," before the Christmas holidays, and discussed the erection of a recreation center.

Donald Joseph, recreation director, reported that the Moose lodge had granted permission for use of the second floor at the home on a month's trial basis. A statement by Glenn L. Bream, member of the board, that "this is just a start, we must have a building of our own eventually," started the discussion on this subject which culminated in a motion by Mr. Bream that Alfred Hamme, York architect, be requested to appear at the January meeting of the board and outline plans and probable cost.

AUTOS DAMAGED

Cars operated by Eugene Baughman, Hanover, and Kenneth J. Smith, New Oxford R. 2, were involved in a minor accident in front of 101 Freck street, Hanover, about 12:10 p.m. Thursday, with resulting damage to both cars estimated at $45 by Hanover police.

Baughman was traveling west on Frederick street and Smith was attempting to drive from a parking place when the accident occurred, police said. Neither driver was injured.

MORE THAN 3,000 PERSONS VIEW BIGLER PARADE

More than 3,000 persons were in Biglerville for the annual Christmas parade and lighting ceremony Friday night.

The parade, one of the largest Christmas processions ever held in this section, was followed by a program of band music, prayer and the reading of the Christmas story marking the turning on of Biglerville's decorative lights for the yuletide season.

After the outdoor activities about 700, mostly youngsters, jammed the Biglerville community center for an hour-long showing of Christmas movies and animated cartoons that closed the Biglerville Business Club's annual greeting to the Christmas season.

Rain dampened the streets of the upper county borough shortly before the parade began, but by the time activities were underway the rain had stopped and the procession wended its way through the town in an evening marked by almost spring-like warmth.

Beautiful Floats

The parade showed a mixture of the spiritual and the more material aspects of Christmas, just as did the program.

First honors in the float division, a $25 prize, went to the Trinity Lutheran church of Andoverville. Its float featured an altar, surrounded by the black gown members of the junior choir singing Christmas carols. Lighted candles on the altar, the minister and the choir combined to make the float both unusual and beautiful.

Second prize, $20, was won by the Tenth Grade of Biglerville high school, with a float depicting a "Winter Wonderland" scene complete with "Frosty, the Snowman." Third place, $15, went to the Ira Lady post of the American Legion. Its float depicted a number of soldiers in Korea, one of them wounded and (Please Turn to Page 2)

Reds Stubbornly Reject All Allied Offers To Supervise Armistice; Three Jet Fights

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 8 (AP)—The swirling air war over northwest Korea resumed Saturday after a one-day lull. Three jet battles were fought in the brilliant blue skies.

U. S. Fifth Air Force said no damage was inflicted by either side. The ground front was uncomfortable, but quiet. The only action of any size appeared to be an early-morning thrust by a reinforced company of Reds on the central front. The Communists hit a United Nations hill position, two miles southwest of Kumsong. U. N. troops drove them off in a three and one-half hour battle.

Beat Red Attacks

A U. S. Eighth Army communique said two other smaller Red attacks on the central front were beaten off.

The communique added that U. N. troops reoccupied with little or no opposition three advanced positions they gave up Friday on the western and central fronts.

No significant activity was reported from the eastern front Saturday.

Clearing skies were welcomed by drenched troops in the west. There was little escape from the near-zero temperatures in the east.

A suggest jet battle reported Saturday matched a flight of 31 F-86 Sabre jets against about 75 MIG-15 jets. The battle broke off after 15 minutes with no damaging hits scored.

In two other aerial scraps, F-84 Thunderjets tangled with formations of MIGs. Both fights were scoreless, Fifth Air Force said.

Night flying bombers Friday night attacked a Red airfield and a railway bridge. Other bombers and marine flyers spotted Communist trucks moving supplies through the dark. They claimed 75 destroyed.

Ground action Friday was limited to eight Communist probes, a handful of United Nations patrols, and some sporadic Red artillery.

All the Communist jets were repulsed—some with severe Red losses, considering the small size of the units which took part.

PHI DELTA FRAT AWARDED FIRST CONTEST PRIZE

The Phi Delta Theta fraternity, West Lincoln avenue, won first prize in the annual contest held for outdoor Christmas decorations of the various fraternity houses of Gettysburg college.

For the Christmas house party week-end the Phi Delta Theta home has been transformed into an old English tavern. The members decorated the interior of the home in keeping with the exterior decorations. Carol singers are featured on the front lawn, and carols are played over a loudspeaker system.

Second prize went to the ATO house, North Washington street. The outside is devoted to a descriptive original Christmas poem. Within the building painted scenes showing the evolution of Christmas from the earliest times to the present, in Europe and America, have been placed on display.

Third honors were won by the Lambda Chi Alpha house, West Broadway. The front of the home has been covered by a world map to which Santa and his helpers are shooting rockets containing lighted gifts from the front lawn.

Others In Contest

Other houses entered in the contest include the Kappa Delta Rho, which used Donald Duck as its main character in a "Comic Strip Christmas" decoration; Phi Gamma Delta turned its home into a replica of the "White House" on the college campus and showed a huge Christmas card expressing appreciation to President and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson; "Winter Wonderland" is the theme for the Phi Kappa Rho decorations with Santa, in a sleigh, visiting a home; Tau Kappa Epsilon used lights of various colors for its decoration and Alpha Theta Chi developed an evergreen fireplace.

Dances were held at the various fraternity houses Friday night and another dance is scheduled for most of the fraternities tonight.

EACH GET DEER

Willis Wherley, Gettysburg R. 1, shot a nine-point buck which dressed 145 pounds while hunting near Gettysburg Thursday morning.

Roy Goldsmith, North Stratton street, shot an eight-point deer Wednesday in McKean county which weighed 150 pounds.

IS RECOVERING

Frank Manahan, a native of Adams county, now residing at 311 East Second street, Dixon, Ill., is recovering at the Dixon hospital from an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 8 (AP)—United Nations negotiators today made another unsuccessful effort to break the long deadlock over policing a truce in Korea.

The Reds rebuffed all U. N. overtures and again said "No" to every key U. N. proposal for supervising an armistice.

After five hours of debate in which tempers on both sides of the conference table became frayed, the two-man subcommittees appeared no nearer an agreement which would break the 12-day deadlock.

being given blood plasma. The float pointed out that "the perfect Christmas gift to the men in service is your blood, donated through the Red Cross blood donor program."

Realistic Displays
Fourth place, $10, was won by a float entered by Richard Miller. It depicted a Christmas scene in a home featuring a Christmas tree, with strings of lights, an electric train in operation and a Santa Claus.

Harold Warner was awarded the $10 first prize for decorated automobiles and Cub Pack 71 of Biglerville won the $18 first prize for marching groups. The Gettysburg Women of the Moose won second honors, $12, for marching units. The Cub pack had a Santa Claus holding reins to a number of animals. The Women of the Moose were in blackface minstrel garb.

Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Coble, Aspers, all won prizes in the parade. Parker and Garnet Coble, Jr., appearing as Rudolph the Red Nose reindeer, won $5 first prize in the individuals or couples contest, and Edwin Coble won second honors in that division, a prize of $4. Their sister, Marie Coble, won the $4 first place for decorated bicycle. She was dressed as Santa Claus and had a fireplace on the front of her bicycle.

Other Winners
Third honors, $2, for individuals, went to Mary Hewetson of Biglerville. Second prize in the decorated "bikes" division, $2, was awarded Clyde Funt of Arendtsville and third prize, $1, was won by Kenneth Markle, of Biglerville. Richard Shealer, of Gettysburg, won first place in the male horseback riders division and Patricia Goldsmith, Gettysburg, won first place for female horseback riders. Each will receive $2.

The parade was led by Ralph Shetter on horseback as marshal followed by two girls, in red skirts, white shirts and red firemen's hats, carrying a sign, "Biglerville H and T company."

Band, Scouts In Parade
In the firemen's group were the Boiling Springs high school band led by drum majorettes wearing yellow and blue uniforms—including yellow spats, and the Biglerville fire truck.

The Women of the Moose minstrels followed, marching ahead of a unit garbed in pajamas representing "The Night Before Christmas."

Several individual marchers, including the Coble youngsters as Rudolph the Red Nose reindeer, preceded the Biglerville Kitchenettes who turned out in full regalia, but did not compete for prizes.

The Cub Scouts were next, followed by the decorated bicycles and the Gettysburg high school band and majorettes.

First float in line was the Trinity Lutheran unit with the choir, followed by eleven other floats, which themes varied from a huge white lion entered by the Upper Adams Lions, to a Christmas crèche scene in which a tent was used as the manger in which Christ was born. The Class of 1952 also had a group singing Christmas carols, labeled "A Vision of Christmas."

The horsemen and Biglerville high school band, with majorettes, preceded the commercial floats. About 20 vehicles were in this group. An unusual combination was that entered by the C. H. Musselman company. The first part of its entry consisted of a floor truck, with a lighted Christmas tree carried on the prongs of the truck's lifting unit. Behind it was a tractor trailer van with "Season's Greetings" written across the sides.

The opening of the teen-age club program with a dance at the Moose home Friday evening, December 14, was discussed. Directors urged that the program be started immediately, if possible. Membership cards will be printed. A fee of from 50 cents to $1 a year was suggested for membership. Joseph reported that winter recreation activities are in full swing at the high school and that basketball and other projects were meeting with enthusiasm. The question of compensation insurance was discussed, and Joseph was directed to obtain bids.

Warriors Bow In Opening Cage Game To Hubs 46-38

A 19-point scoring spree in the third period gave the Hagerstown high cagers, last year's Maryland state champs, a 46-38 victory over the Gettysburg high dribblers in the Warriors' first game of the season Friday evening at Hagerstown.

Until the Hubs went on their spree the game had been very close. Trailing 40-26 going into the final period, the Warriors rallied gamely and outscored their opponents 12-6 in the final quarter.

The Warriors were apparently handicapped by the style of officiating encountered which handicapped their freedom of play and proved disastrous.

After trailing 21-19 going into the third period, the Warriors missed at least five "peep" shots which rolled off the hoop and then Hagerstown spurred to take its commanding lead. Throughout the game Coach Forney was forced to use single substitutions instead of by units as planned due to many of his players having three fouls against them.

On the whole, the entire squad played scrappy ball and many gave promise of developing into fine performers in the future. Burke was easily the outstanding performer for the victors.

Coach Forney's lads got off to a 7-5 lead in the first period on goals by Skinner and Fisel and free tosses by Skinner, Bream and Swope. All of Hagerstown's points came on fouls, Kuhn landing three of the five converted.

Hubs Take Lead
Scoring became more frequent in the second period when the Hubs finally moved ahead 21-19. During the stanza Hixon added a pair of goals for Gettysburg with Swope, Harriel and Richie Carter contributing single twin-pointers. Burke sparked the Hagerstown rally with a pair of goals and three fouls while Gutshaw connected for two goals.

Poul shooting featured the third quarter when the locals failed to tally from the floor. Hagerstown hit for six goals and looped seven fouls in as many attempts. Fisel, John Carter, Dayhoff, each scored twice from the foul line and Skinner once for the Forney-men.

The 14-point advantage was too much for Gettysburg despite its strong finish. In the final period Harriel landed a pair of goals and foul, Skinner added another goal and fouls as did J. Carter with Williams contributing a charity toss. Cutshaw landed Hagerstown's only goal of the round while four additional points were added via free throws.

Dayhoff, Hixon and Harriel were each banished via personal fouls while Hagerstown lost Springer.

Jayvees Victorious
Ross Sachs' junior varsity got off to a good start by winning the preliminary game 28-22 over a much taller team. Penn performed particularly efficiently with DeHaas and Schmitt coming through well. Improvement in play beneath the board by the taller lads is needed.

Next Tuesday the Warriors play their first home game when they are host to Don Cockley's strong York high squad.

RAMS AND LIONS TO MEET SUNDAY

Los Angeles, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams reach the show down stage tomorrow in their drive to gain a clear cut claim to the division title of the National football league and the right to go into the loop championship picture later this month.

Opposing the colorful Rams are the Detroit Lions, a determined squad which lost the leadership to the Rams in the National conference just a week ago when they bowed to San Francisco while Los Angeles was whipping the Chicago Bears.

Offense-geared Los Angeles has a 7-3-0 record to date and the Lions 6-3-1, so a Ram victory will go a long way toward giving them the division title for the third consecutive year.

Coach Buddy Parker's Lions offer a formidable argument, however, with such backfield stars as Bobby Layne, Bob Hoernschemeyer, Doak Walker and Pat Harder ready to take up the challenge. Quarterback Layne, who has thrown 25 touchdown passes this season, is the main target for Ram defensive men as Larry Brink and Andy Robustelli.

Leading the Ram attack will be Capt. Bob Waterfield, the superb field general; his beef trust backfield composed of fullbacks Dan Towler, Dick Hoerner and Tank Younger (all operating at the same time), and two of the best ends in the business, Elroy Mirsch and Tom Pears.

Fifty-five thousand or more fans are expected to watch the game, most of them hoping the hot and cold Rams blow hot on the kickoff at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time tomorrow.

Panthers Capture Last Tilt; Beat Miami

Miami, Fla., Dec. 8 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Panthers — and their coaches — are sorry the season is over. They just started playing football.

"Our team really jelled the last few weeks," backfield coach Edgar Jones declared last night after Pitt had given a thorough 21-7 lacing to the Miami Hurricanes, who were supposed to win by a couple of touchdowns.

That ended a once-dismal Pitt season on a cheerful three-game victory note after the Panthers had lost seven straight. Odds-makers had set Miami up as a 13-point choice, but the Hurricanes never had a chance.

With Bob Bestwick throwing passes to Chris Warriner and Richard Dietrick, and Bill Sichko, Louis Cimarrolli, Bobby Epps and others chewing their way through the Miami line, Pitt shot into a 14-0 lead in the first quarter.

Miami, with a Gator Bowl bid in its pocket after a 7-2 season before the Pitt game, didn't even threaten until the closing minutes, when the red-hot Panthers finally cooled down a bit.

COURT'S BLAST CALLED UNFAIR

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 8 (AP)—David Blair Owen, blamed by a New York judge of morally debasing three basketball players in his position as president of Bradley university, was joined today by school officials and townspeople in labeling the blast "unfair."

President Owen, who rose from the job of handling sports publicity to the $14,000 a year presidency of Bradley, was assailed yesterday by Judge Saul S. Streit. Judge Streit aimed his broadside after giving suspended sentences to three former Bradley basketball players on charges of conspiracy to fix games.

The three are Gene Melchiorre, George Chianakis and William Mann. Judge Streit accused Owen of giving university sanction to "moral debasement" of the three former players, who had pleaded guilty to the charge.

In handing down his decision, Judge Streit declared all three were "corrupted and demoralized by a system which set athletic success above education."

Streit hit at what he charged were snap courses taken by the players, such as social and square dancing, and money paid to them by the Braves' Booster club.

As for Saddler, he still was spluttering with rage over the tug-of-war, wrestling match, judo exhibition and part-time boxing contest he and the Brooklyn Battering Ram

Japan Attacks Pearl Harbor: (By the Associated Press) Tokyo, Dec. 8.—Japan hurled her sea and air might against western Pacific possessions of the United States and Great Britain today in lightning assault, followed by a formal declaration of war. . . .

Covering the War: Japan has declared war on the United States.

The sudden turn of events in the Far East broke sharply and suddenly Sunday afternoon when Japanese bombers attacked United States possessions in the Pacific, and a short time later, issued the declaration of war. . . .

Roosevelt Asks for War against Japan: Congress declared war on Japan early this afternoon.—Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to declare war against Japan.

He made the solemn, historic request after disclosing to the nation that yesterday's sudden Japanese attack on Hawaii had cost the United States two warships and 3,000 dead and wounded.

"I ask," the chief executive declared, "that the Congress declare that since the unprovoked and dastardly attack by Japan on Sunday, December 7th, a state of war has existed between the United States and the Japanese empire."

The President said that yesterday was "a date which will live in infamy."

Rev. Fr. Stock Is Speaker at Elks' Service: Stressing charity as the greatest of the cardinal principles, upon which the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is founded, the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock delivered the address at the annual memorial services of Gettysburg lodge No. 1045, held in the lodge home Sunday afternoon.

Exalter Ruler John Plattenburg presided over the service. Music was furnished by Mrs. S. P. Snyder and the College Quartet. The invocation was given by the Rev. Howard Schley Fox.

The memorial ritual was conducted before an assemblage of approximately 100 lodgemen, friends and members of the families of the deceased members in whose honor the public services were conducted. Four names added during the last year brought to 80 the list of "absent" Elks, whose names have been inscribed "upon our tablets of love and memory." The four Elks who died since last year's service were L. C. Pittenturf, E. C. Moser, John S. Robertson and Arthur E. Rice.

Staub-Menges: Raymond Staub, son of Joseph P. Staub, of Bonneauville, and Miss Minnie Menges, daughter of Mrs. Charles Menges, of New Oxford, were married Saturday evening in the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Bonneauville, by the Rev. Fr. Leo Krichen. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lawrence.

Cossack Choir Thrills Large Audience: Too much praise can not be given to the first concert of the season, the General Platoff Don Cossack chorus, which was given Tuesday night in the Gettysburg high school.

Nicholas Kostrukoff is a charming, dynamic leader, whose personality is radiated in his chorus.

The "Cossack War Song" was received with such great ovation that the leader directed the number be repeated.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
POPULARITY

What a price some folks pay for what Stevenson noted as "that empty and ugly thing called popularity," and then he asks: "Will any man suppose it worth gaining?" And yet what bribes and sales are made to possess this fleeting thing!

Who was the popular man or woman of a year ago, or indeed of a week ago? Some glorious deed often brings about popularity, uninvited, as has been the case so many times. I recall the winning of the naval battle by Admiral (then Commodore) Dewey before Manila Bay, whereby the United States came into possession of the Philippine Islands. He received a tremendous welcome in Washington and was so popular that his friends wanted to make him President—but in a few months they were hissing him in theaters because he had presented to his new wife a home that the children of America had given to him!

Rarely in history has a man been so honored as was Col. Lindbergh, and justly so, for the brave feat of a first perfect trip in his plane from New York to Paris. People and governments vied with each other to pay him their greatest tribute, but it didn't take long for great masses of people to denounce him for no other reason than that he wished to live his own life and express himself as he chose.

Many of us recall the tremendous popularity of Theodore Roosevelt, before and while President. Yet the time came when he was reviled and turned against, and one New York newspaper gave an order that his name should not appear in its columns! Stevenson well named popularity as "that empty and ugly thing."

There is no striving so permanent and full of personal satisfaction as to serve one's fellowman as best as one is able, and leave the results of one's efforts upon this earth to the final summing up. Even the world's appraisal proves inaccurate in endless cases. The humblest, who does his best from day to day, caring nothing for popularity, finally sleeps happily and safely beside the great of this earth.

Just Folks

DESTINY

This is all that they were told
That crisp December morn;
Within a stable bleak and cold
A baby had been born.

They didn't know a wondrous thing
Was happening to them
And that in time that child would bring
World fame to Bethlehem.

Nor do we know who merely see
A little boy at play
That he may prove the man to be
The world will need some day.

But though the future none can read,
No one God's plan should scorn.
The man the world will some day need
Already has been born.

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.E.E.

Faith is a fine thing to have, but not in the other fellow's brakes.

Too Fast For Conditions

There is nothing new in the idea at all but when you sift safety through to its essentials you find that the main reason for accidents, or worse, is driving too fast for conditions. Entirely too many people do not have the car under control. They never seem to expect the unexpected. They drive as if the coast were clear when the chances are that it will be nothing of the sort. Naturally, the result is to place too much dependence on the brakes, too much reliance on their own skill and too little emphasis on the loss of action due to their slow reaction time. It all adds up to trouble.

What to do about it? Well, for one thing, did you ever try stopping the car at road speed in time to avoid hitting some imaginary object a few hundred feet ahead? It sure does slow you down to discover that you would miss your goal by about 200 feet. Now try to picture what the situation would be if the roadway were slippery.

The tendency is to go around a blind curve as if there were nothing by way of interference beyond the range of vision. What, however, would happen if you had to stop immediately upon making the turn? You drive along at night assuming all is well beyond the range of the light. An instant later danger looms. Then what?

Interesting To Know

One of the new batteries will not break down should the current regulator allow the generator to over charge.

Locating cracks and flaws in engine blocks and heads is now done with a color process that makes inspection simple and accurate.

A lot of tires and wheels are thrown out of balance by failure to remove the old balance weights when changing tires. When you install new tires, always have them balanced, starting from scratch.

Caught Just In Time

One of the units of the car which seldom receive any attention is the starting motor. The wise motorist has it looked over before it kicks up a fuss.

I nearly got into trouble by overlooking this unit on my car. It had been performing quite well—in fact, so well that I would not have thought to have it checked had the car not been in the shop for voltage regulator trouble. My mechanic naturally decided to take a look at the starting motor while he was browsing around the electrical system. Believe it or not, he found this little unit needed a new bearing and a new bushing.

Mechanic Joe Speaking: "Not all manufacturers recommend it but it seems to me that the suggestion of one car maker that owners have the oil pump screen cleaned every thousand miles is something worthy of consideration. Of course, it is necessary to take down the oil pan for this, and this is a nuisance and an added expense, but certainly no annoyance comparable to engine damage through faulty lubrication. Where screens are not given attention, especially in cars that are driven a lot for short runs in cold weather, sludge often does quite a clogging job."

Re-Check Those Shoes

Few of us think to do it but a

logical time to have the brakes adjusted for shoe clearance is after a trip. We usually consider this point prior to a trip, and when getting things in order for road service, but actually many a car needs more brake service after the trip. This is especially true if the route has been through busy cities or over the mountains.

I'll tell this story in reverse because that was the way it dawned on me, and I think it has to be told this way to bring out its point.

At a filling station when paying my bill I noticed that the chap who had waited on me, while appearing to be an old timer at the game, was so new that he did not know how to ring up sales on the cash register. This seemed to call merely for a little patience on my part, but later I realized that when checking my oil he had shown me that the motor needed a quart of oil. Actually he had failed to insert the stick far enough. Thus the engine's oil pan was overfilled, a condition which may lead to foaming of the oil.

It was the only time I could have profited by paying first.

Try Roadside Reading

If you have been seeing only the annoyances enroute while traveling I recommend the idea of taking in some of the amusing signs along the way. Somehow the other evening I ceased being so tired when I passed Caruncle Lake. It created some interesting conversation, and it wasn't long before our repartee reached the boiling point. I need not tell you our reactions as we passed an elaborate place entitled Paradise and discovered it was a funeral home.

All Normal Enough

The experience of G. W. with a self-sealing inner tube ought to be helpful to others. Discovering a long nail through the shoe he withdrew this immediately, believing that the tube would seal itself and that by withdrawing the nail he would prevent it from tearing and thus ruining the tube. So far so good. He was aware that the tire was starting to go flat but, being in a hurry, drove on for eight miles to his destination. At that point the tire appeared to have normal pressure. However, two hours later it was half flat. What happened was that the tube did leak right after the nail was withdrawn. But the tire picked up pressure from friction with the road during the eight mile run. Then when it cooled pressure went down to about where it was when the nail was withdrawn.

This Will Save Them

An idea picked up in the actual process of typing these messages strikes me as one that ought to be a trouble saver in the operation of cars. Most of the trouble I have had with typewriters has been the result of operating them too jerkily. I find that if I take things easier and do not flip the various controls as if they were made of rock they do not break. Carried over into the field of the automobile it seems to me that a lot of actual breakage of parts could be spared by avoiding shock in use of the controls and by allowing car parts to adjust to the necessary changes. Like ourselves, mechanical parts work best when at their normal pace and recent being made to fit a sudden mold of change.

Having Their Troubles

Q The clutch plate has been replaced twice but the clutch still grabs. There is never any warpage of the plate and no grease or oil ever is on the lining.—J. L. N.

A Roughness of the flywheel surface would cause this.

Q Using a vacuum gauge for testing I find that the needle has a fast vibration roughly between 14 and 19 inches. This is a new one on me. Can you tell me what it indicates?—Wm. F. D.

A Loose valve guides will cause this action of the pointer.

Q The horns on my car are definitely out of harmony and the one that seems to be giving the trouble has what I might call a flat tone. It is also uneven. I have checked all connections.—R. R. Jr.

A The ailing horn doubtless has a broken diaphragm.

Q What would be the best way to hook up a light to show when the car is in overdrive?—H. H. B.

A Better than this would be to install one of the new vacuum gauges which helps you get more miles per gallon. When you lift your foot from the accelerator the pointer of the gauge will show an increase in intake vacuum. If the gauge holds about 50 per cent of the increase when you start to press down on the accelerator again slowly the car has shifted to overdrive.

Q While the hot water heater on my car provides plenty of warmth for the car no hot air is blown up to the windshield when I have it set for "defrost." Is there anything I can do to repair this?—H. B.

A The chances are that the hot air piping to the defroster vents has slipped off. Take a look under the dash.

Q For some time I have had a most mysterious knock in the engine. Checking fails to reveal any worn piston pins, bad valves or loose pistons. Yet the knock sounds like any one of these more familiar noises.

—L. J. V.

A I suspect there is trouble with the generator. Check the armature shaft and I think you will find that it has excessive end play.

Q Some time ago you gave some figures on the number of times the spark plugs of an engine would fire over a given mileage. Will you please repeat this as I am doing a school composition on automobile engines.

—J. H. McE.

A For a six-cylinder engine each plug fires 1,500 times per mile. So in 10,000 miles of running the same plug throws 15 million sparks. All of which is a good reason for replacing it before it starts failing.

Q Will an obstruction in a brake

Reynolds, chaplain of the Legion, and the cast and audience joining in the singing of "God Bless America."

TEN YEARS AGO

Japan Attacks Pearl Harbor: (By the Associated Press) Tokyo, Dec. 8.—Japan hurled her sea and air might against western Pacific possessions of the United States and Great Britain today in lightning assault, followed by a formal declaration of war.

Covering the War: Japan has declared war on the United States.

The sudden turn of events in the Far East broke sharply and suddenly Sunday afternoon when Japanese bombers attacked United States possessions in the Pacific, and a short time later, issued the declaration of war.

Roosevelt Asks for War against Japan: Congress declared war on Japan early this afternoon.—Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to declare war against Japan.

He made the solemn, historic request after disclosing to the nation that yesterday's sudden Japanese attack on Hawaii had cost the United States two warships and 3,000 dead and wounded.

"I ask," the chief executive declared, "that the Congress declare that since the unprovoked and dastardly attack by Japan on Sunday, December 7th, a state of war has existed between the United States and the Japanese empire."

The President said that yesterday was "a date which will live in infamy."

Rev. Fr. Stock Is Speaker at Elks' Service: Stressing charity as the greatest of the cardinal principles, upon which the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is founded, the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock delivered the address at the annual memorial services of Gettysburg lodge No. 1045, held in the lodge home Sunday afternoon.

Exalter Ruler John Plattenburg presided over the service. Music was furnished by Mrs. S. P. Snyder and the College Quartet. The invocation was given by the Rev. Howard Schley Fox.

The memorial ritual was conducted before an assemblage of approximately 100 lodgemen, friends and members of the families of the deceased members in whose honor the public services were conducted. Four names added during the last year brought to 89 the list of "absent" Elks, whose names have been inscribed "upon our tablets of love and memory." The four Elks who died since last year's service were L. C. Pittenturf, E. C. Moser, John S. Robertson and Arthur E. Rice.

Staub-Menges: Raymond Staub, son of Joseph F. Staub, of Bonneauville, and Miss Minnie Menges, daughter of Mrs. Charles Menges, of New Oxford, were married Saturday evening in the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Bonneauville, by the Rev. Fr. Leo Krichen. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lawrence.

At Kentucky U.: Charles William Harbaugh, 426 West Middle street, has enrolled as a student at the University of Kentucky for the current term.

K.C. Will Mark 25th Birthday: Brute Council No. 1860 of the Knights of Columbus of Emmitsburg will hold a banquet December 10 in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the council. Charter members will be special guests.

The committee on arrangements includes George C. Thompson, Louis Rosensteel, Charles Troxell, Charles Eckenrode, Paul Keepers, Guy Topper and B. J. Eckenrode.

Cossack Choir Thrills Large Audience: Too much praise can not be given to the first concert of the season, the General Platoff Don Cossack chorus, which was given Tuesday night in the Gettysburg high school.

Nicholas Kostroff is a charming, dynamic leader, whose personality is radiated in his chorus.

The "Cossack War Song" was received with such great ovation that the leader directed the number be repeated.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
POPULARITY

What a price some folks pay for what Stevenson noted as "that empty and ugly thing called popularity," and then he asks: "Will any man suppose it worth gaining?" And yet what bribes and sales are made to possess this fleeting thing!

Who was the popular man or woman of a year ago, or indeed of a week ago? Some glorious deed often brings about popularity, uninvited, as has been the case so many times. I recall the winning of the naval battle by Admiral (then Commodore) Dewey before Manila Bay, whereby the United States came into possession of the Philippine Islands. He received a tremendous welcome in Washington and was so popular that his friends wanted to make him President—but in a few months they were hissing him in theaters because he had presented to his new wife a home that the children of America had given to him!

Rarely in history has a man been so honored as was Col. Lindbergh, and justly so, for the brave feat of a first perfect trip in his plane from New York to Paris. People and governments vied with each other to pay him their greatest tribute, but it didn't take long for great masses of people to denounce him for no other reason than that he wished to live his own life and express himself as he chose.

Many of us recall the tremendous popularity of Theodore Roosevelt, before and while President. Yet the time came when he was reviled and turned against, and one New York newspaper gave an order that his name should not appear in its columns! Stevenson well named popularity as "that empty and ugly thing."

There is no striving so permanent and full of personal satisfaction as to serve one's fellowman as best as one is able, and leave the results of one's efforts upon this earth to the final summing up. Even the world's appraisal proves inaccurate in endless cases. The humblest, who does his best from day to day, caring nothing for popularity, finally sleeps happily and safely beside the great of this earth.

DESTINY

This is all that they were told
That crisp December morn:
Within a stable bleak and cold
A baby had been born.

They didn't know a wondrous thing
Was happening to them
And that in time that child would bring
World fame to Bethlehem.

Nor do we know who merely see
A little boy at play
That he may prove the man to be
The world will need some day.

But though the future none can read,
No one God's plan should scorn.
The man the world will some day need
Already has been born.

Miss Catherine L. Baker and David Deitch Wed in Dillsburg: Miss Catherine Lydia Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott P. Baker, Dillsburg, became the bride of David Gulden Deitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Deitch, Fairfield road, on Wednesday evening at 6:30 in Monaghan Presbyterian church in Dillsburg. The Rev. Lee N. Page performed the ceremony.

The wedding took place on the birthday anniversary of the bride, the bridegroom and his twin brother who served as best man.

Concludes Service in Clerk's Office: Harry D. Ridinger ended on Thursday five and a half years of service as deputy clerk of the courts of Adams county under Clerk Roy D. Renner. Next Wednesday Ridinger will be inducted into the United States Army at New Cumberland along with 29 other Adams countians.

Miss Anna Gilbert, New Oxford, is assisting with clerical work in the clerk's office.

King Leopold Wed: New York, Dec. 6 (AP)—King Leopold III of the Belgians, widowed by the death of Queen Astrid in 1935, has married Mary Lelia, Baelis, daughter of a former governor of East Flanders, the German radio said today, quoting a pastoral letter of Monsignor Van Roey, Archbishop of Belgium. The ceremony was said to have taken place September 11.

Half of 28th to Pass through Town Tuesday: The 28th Division, homebound bound from the Carolinas after completing the maneuvers with the First Army, will pass through Gettysburg on Tuesday, December 9.

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.E.E.

Faith is a fine thing to have, but not in the other fellow's brakes.

Too Fast For Conditions

There is nothing new in the idea at all but when you sift safety through to its essentials you find that the main reason for accidents, or worse, is driving too fast for conditions. Entirely too many people do not have the car under control. They never seem to expect the unexpected. They drive as if the coast were clear when the chances are that it will be nothing of the sort. Naturally, the result is to place too much dependence on the brakes, too much reliance on their own skill and too little emphasis on the loss of action due to their slow reaction time. It all adds up to trouble.

What to do about it? Well, for one thing, did you ever try stopping the car at road speed in time to avoid hitting some imaginary object a few hundred feet ahead? It sure does slow you down to discover that you would miss your goal by about 200 feet. Now try to picture what the situation would be if the roadway were slippery.

The tendency is to go around a blind curve as if there were nothing by way of interference beyond the range of vision. What, however, would happen if you had to stop immediately upon making the turn? You drive along at night assuming all is well beyond the range of the light. An instant later danger looms. Then what?

Interesting To Know

One of the new batteries will not break down should the current regulator allow the generator to over charge.

Locating cracks and flaws in engine blocks and heads is now done with a color process that makes inspection simple and accurate.

A lot of tires and wheels are thrown out of balance by failure to remove the old balance weights when changing tires. When you install new tires, always have them balanced, starting from scratch.

Caught Just In Time

One of the units of the car which seldom receive any attention is the starting motor. The wise motorist has it looked over before it kicks up a fuss.

I nearly got into trouble by overlooking this unit on my car. It had been performing quite well—in fact, so well that I would not have thought to have it checked had the car not been in the shop for voltage regulator trouble. My mechanic naturally decided to take a look at the starting motor while he was browsing around the electrical system. Believe it or not, he found this little unit needed a new bearing and a new bushing.

Mechanic Joe Speaking: "Not all manufacturers recommend it but it seems to me that the suggestion of one car maker that owners have the oil pump screen cleaned every thousand miles is something worthy of consideration. Of course, it is necessary to take down the oil pan for this, and this is a nuisance and an added expense, but certainly no annoyance comparable to engine damage through faulty lubrication. Where screens are not given attention, especially in cars that are driven a lot for short runs in cold weather, sludge often does quite a clogging job."

Re-Check Those Shoes

Few of us think to do it but a

logical time to have the brakes adjusted for shoe clearance is after a trip. We usually consider this point prior to a trip, and when getting things in order for road service, but actually many a car needs more brake service after the trip. This is especially true if the route has been through busy cities or over the mountains.

I'll tell this story in reverse because that was the way it dawned on me, and I think it has to be told this way to bring out its point.

At a filling station when paying my bill I noticed that the chap who had waited on me, while appearing to be an old timer at the game, was so new that he did not know how to ring up sales on the cash register. This seemed to call merely for a little patience on my part, but later I realized that when checking my oil he had shown me that the motor needed a quart of oil. Actually he had failed to insert the stick far enough. Thus the engine's oil pan was overfilled, a condition which may lead to foaming of the oil.

It was the only time I could have profited by paying first.

Try Roadside Reading

If you have been seeing only the annoyances enroute while traveling I recommend the idea of taking in some of the amusing signs along the way. Somehow the other evening I ceased being so tired when I passed Caribuncle Lake. It created some interesting conversation, and it wasn't long before our repartee reached the boiling point. I need not tell you our reactions as we passed an elaborate place entitled Paradise and discovered it was a funeral home.

All Normal Enough

The experience of G. W. with a self-sealing inner tube ought to be helpful to others. Discovering a long nail through the shoe he withdrew this immediately, believing that the tube would seal itself and that by withdrawing the nail he would prevent it from tearing and thus ruining the tube. So far so good. He was aware that the tire was starting to go flat but, being in a hurry, drove on for eight miles to his destination. At that point the tire appeared to have normal pressure. However, two hours later it was half flat.

What happened was that the tube

did leak right after the nail was withdrawn. But the tire picked up pressure from friction with the road during the eight mile run. Then when it cooled pressure went down to about where it was when the nail was withdrawn.

This Will Save Them

An idea picked up in the actual process of typing these messages strikes me as one that ought to be a trouble saver in the operation of cars. Most of the trouble I have had with typewriters has been the result of operating them too jerkily. I find that if I take things easier and do not flip the various controls as if they were made of rock they do not break. Carried over into the field of the automobile it seems to me that a lot of actual breakage of parts could be spared by avoiding shock in use of the controls and by allowing car parts to adjust to the necessary changes. Like ourselves, mechanical parts work best when at their normal pace and resent being made to fit a sudden mood of change.

Having Their Troubles

Q. The clutch plate has been replaced twice but the clutch still grabs. There is never any warpage of the plate and no grease or oil ever is on the lining.—J. L. N.

A. Roughness of the flywheel surface would cause this.

Q. Using a vacuum gauge for testing I find that the needle has a fast vibration roughly between 14 and 19 inches. This is a new one on me. Can you tell me what it indicates?—Wm. P. D.

A. Loose valve guides will cause this action of the pointer.

Q. The horns on my car are definitely out of harmony and the one that seems to be giving the trouble has what I might call a flat tone. It is also uneven. I have checked all connections.—R. R. Jr.

A. The ailing horn doubtless has a broken diaphragm.

Q. What would be the best way to hook up a light to show when the car is in overdrive?—H. H. B.

A. Better than this would be to install one of the new vacuum gauges which helps you get more miles per gallon. When you lift your foot from the accelerator the pointer of the gauge will show an increase in intake vacuum. If the gauge holds about 50 per cent of the increase when you start to press down on the accelerator again slowly the car has shifted to overdrive.

Q. While the hot water heater on my car provides plenty of warmth for the car no hot air is blown up to the windshield when I have it set for "defrost." Is there anything I can do to repair this?—H. B.

A. The chances are that the hot air piping to the defroster vents has slipped off. Take a look under the dash.

Q. For some time I have had a most mysterious knock in the engine. Checking fails to reveal any worn piston pins, bad valves or loose pistons. Yet the knock sounds like any one of these more familiar noises.

—L. J. V.

A. I suspect there is trouble with the generator. Check the armature shaft and I think you will find that it has excessive end play.

Q. Some time ago you gave some figures on the number of times the spark plugs of an engine would fire over in 10,000 miles. Will you please repeat this as I am doing a school composition on automobile engines.

—J. H. McE.

A. For a six-cylinder engine each plug fires 1,500 times per mile. So in 10,000 miles of running the same plug throws 15 million sparks. All of which is a good reason for replacing it before it starts falling.

Q. Will an obstruction in a brake

BIG CROWD SEES "CRAZY DAZE" ON OPENING NIGHT

A capacity crowd was in attendance for the first presentation of "Crazy Daze" on Thursday evening in the Littlestown high school auditorium under the sponsorship of Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, for the benefit of the production was repeated Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The mystery comedy was presented in three acts and took place in the living room of the Williams home. The cast, composed of all local talent, was as follows: "Audrey Williams," young and impish, "Snookie" Harner; "Lawsy Ann Sakes," the maid who was born on a farm, Jackie Baughman Rudisill; "Herbert Williams," domineered by his wife and mother-in-law, David S. Kammerer, Jr.; "Dorothy Williams," his daughter, young and in love, Bernice Plunkert; "Vera Williams," her mother, Geraldine Miller; "Ima Crabb," the fussy mother-in-law, Elizabeth Mehrling; "Phil Newberry," in love with Dorothy, Stewart N. Long; "Toby Jones," studying to be a detective and well meaning, Joseph P. Long; "Count Cecil Sissingham," smooth, Warren C. Harner, and "Asa Post," who keeps wandering in and out, Wilbur E. Mackley.

Prior to the production, two laugh-provoking characters wandered through the audience. A "Beautiful Ladies Ballet" was featured with a group of girls in pink gowns and the solo dancer in white and black. The girls of the high school who participated in the ballet were Phyllis Higinbotham, solo dancer, Mary Flickinger, Evelyn Dickinson, Gloria Bowers, Kitty Lou Eckenrode, Charolyn Groff, Mary Chronister, Nadine Shuey, Patsy Spangler, Jean Morehead and Yvonne Weikert, with Barbara Waltman as piano accompanist. A group of junior high school girls in a variety of battered costumes presented a "Hick Ballet." These girls were Kathryn Streivig, Suzanne Long, Nancy Yingling, Nancy Slusser, Barbara Renner, Lois Shull, Marybel Marshman and Pansy Knight, accompanied by Miss Waltman.

Added Features Amuse
Variety was added to the play with singing and other features, among them, "Lawsy Ann's" family album, introducing "Flo Gently," Roscoe Bowers; "Gushy," Miss Day; "Mrs. Pudd," James W. Fager, and others. A special event was "The Nightmare Wedding," with an all male cast in fancy costumes. The cast included: "bride's mother," James W. Fager, and her many children; "matron of honor," Kenneth Halter; "best man," Albert Brookhouse; "nervous groom," Luther Hankey; "bride," John Wareheim, and the forgetful "justice of the peace," Ralph R. Ruggles, Jr.

A "Mother Goose Review" was presented by a group of children from the first and second grades with Mrs. Hildah Arter portraying the part of Mother Goose. A "Hop-A-Long and Indians" skit was given by children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, instructed by John H. Riley.

Ralph R. Ruggles, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, thanked all who patronized the play, and introduced Miss Iona Day, directress, to the audience. Miss Day extended her appreciation to the people of the community for the hospitality she has been receiving, and thanked all those who helped in any way to make the production a huge success. The program closed with the finale, "America," by the entire cast; a flag raising by the Littlestown Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts; a patriotic speech by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, chaplain of the Legion, and the cast and audience joining in the singing of "God Bless America."

Another large crowd is expected to be on hand to see the second presentation this evening at 8

SCHOOL BOARDS

to become members of the state school directors' association and send a delegate to the state convention. The convention also expressed regret that the governor had seen fit to veto a bill which would have permitted school boards to pay directors' expenses to educational meetings other than state and county conventions.

The convention also adopted resolutions of regret and sympathy on the recent deaths of Harry E. Brown, Fairfield; Hobson D. Crouse, Mt. Joy township; Cleason E. Smith, East

Berlin, and other directors who died within the last year.

A proposal that "marginal fringes" of present joint school districts in the county be added to the nearest jointures was made to the directors by President Luther M. Lady in his annual address to the convention. He urged a "good neighbor policy" between jointures. He renewed the county board's recommendation that bus stop signs be erected through the county as a means of implementing safety features of the state law. He spoke then of the general responsibilities of directors, the importance of training "above average" citizens and declared an "adequate educational opportunity is the birthright of every American citizen."

SANTA and the MAGIC MIRROR
by LUCRECE HUDGINS

AP Newsfeature

"Outa, Bouta, Moopa, Loopa," Said Belinda.
Instantly She Was as Tiny as the Tooth Fairies.

SYNOPSIS: Belinda loses a tooth and puts it under her pillow for the tooth fairies to take away. But frightened and lonesome because her Poppy is in jail, she can't sleep. Suddenly she feels something moving on her bed and spies a tiny boy and girl, dressed all in gold. "You were supposed to be asleep!" they cried.

Chapter Five
A TRIP TO TOOTH CITY

Belinda stared in astonishment at her two fantastic visitors. "W-who are you?" she stammered. "We're the Tooth Fairies, Frank and Fanny," said the boy fairy. "And I must say it wasn't very kind of you to stay awake to catch us."

"Oh, but I didn't mean to spy on you," protested Belinda. "I never imagined you'd really come."

"Then why were you awake?"

"Well, you see, I was worried about Poppy and just couldn't sleep."

"And who is Poppy?" asked both fairies.

Belinda sat down on the floor and the two tiny creatures climbed up and sat on her bare toes. Then Belinda told them about Poppy and how he had been taken to jail and what a wonderful Santa he had been. Then she told them about poor Tommy Lump who had never had a Christmas and about Mr. Lump who was so mean.

"Mercy!" gasped Fanny. "No wonder you couldn't sleep. Whatever will you do?"

"I just don't know," sighed Belinda. "I don't know where to go for help."

All this time Frank has been swinging between two of Belinda's toes. "I know what I'd do," he said. "I'd go to Santa for help."

"But he's in jail," reminded Belinda.

"I mean real Santa Claus," said Frank. "You can just bet he wouldn't want one of his men treated like that. He'd know what to do about it."

"Oh!" exclaimed Belinda. "Do you think I ever could go to Santa for help?"

"I don't see why not," said Frank. "Come with us and we will take you to Tooth City and that is half way to Santa Land."

Belinda's eyes shone with excitement. "Could you take Tommy Lump, too?" she asked. "I can't bear for him to stay with that terrible Mr. Lump."

"Sure," said Frank. "We'll take him, too."

Then Frank leaped onto Belinda's bed, got her tooth from under the pillow and stuck it in his pocket. He scrambled under the bed and came out leading a little white mouse by the ear.

He and Fanny climbed on the mouse's back and Frank said, "Repeat after me these words: Outa, bouta, moopa, loopa."

"Outa, bouta, moopa, loopa," said Belinda obediently.

Instantly she was as tiny as the tooth fairies. "I must never forget those magic words," she cried. "Imagine how useful it will be to make myself tiny whenever I wish!"

"Unfortunately," said Frank, "those words will never work for you again. You may use them only once in a lifetime and even that once the magic lasts for 24 hours only."

"You mean I shall grow to be my old size in just one night and a day?" asked Belinda.

"That's right. Hop on behind us now."

Presently they were in the bedroom of Tommy Lump. Belinda climbed on his pillow and woke him. He seemed not in the least surprised to see her. "I just knew you'd come again!" he whispered.

"Oh, if you knew how angry my father is! Look, he has bolted my door and I suppose I shall not be able even to sit on the front steps anymore."

"Never mind," said Belinda. "I am going to Santa Land to see the really truly Santa and get his help. If you want, you can come with me."

"However can you get to Santa Land?" gasped Tommy.

Belinda pointed to Frank and Fanny who were waiting on the floor with the little white mouse. "They are the tooth fairies," said Belinda. "They will carry me to Tooth City which is half way to Santa Land."

This seemed not at all strange to Tommy who had already had the strangest day in his young life. "I will go with you!" he agreed.

Then Frank told Tommy the magic words to make him tiny and when Tommy had repeated them he, too, was able to climb on the mouse's back.

When the Spaniards reached the Yucatan peninsula in 1517, they found that turkeys had been domesticated there by the Indians.
